

Wee Cradle

Wee Cradle

This cradle was stitched for a wee one named Casper. It is such a simple, small design that I thought you might enjoy it as well for a baby gift. The cradle is inspired from one I saw on a Dutch sampler. I have added a box for birth information such as the year and initials. A friend suggested stitching the full name over one at the top of the box. Maybe you will have some good ideas as well. If so, let me know and I can add your ideas to the web site. If need be, you can certainly extend the box to add further information. I have also added pink colors for girls. I have no picture as yet but perhaps someone will send me one (hint, hint).

Our model was stitched on Lakeside Linen's #32 count Vintage Meadow Rue using The Thread Gatherer's Silk 'N Colors. Stitch using one strand of silk over 2 linen threads.
